INTRODUCTION

On February 1, 1994, the South Carolina Legislature created the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (LLR) with Act 181 by combining 40 separate state agencies including the Department of Labor, the State Fire Academy, the Office of the State Fire Marshal and 37 professional and occupational licensing boards. Legislators envisioned an organization that would promote efficiency and build accountability while delivering the highest level of customer service. The 1994 legislation empowered the Governor to appoint a director of LLR with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Currently LLR administers more than 70 programs, from OSHA enforcement to professional and occupational licensing to educating the fire services. Any one of LLR's divisions could be compared to many present state agencies which are similar in size, complexity and focus.

LLR's Four Divisions are Located in Columbia

1. Administration, Labor, and Professional and Occupational Licensing (POL) - in the Kingtree Building at 110 Centerview Drive.
2. Fire and Life Safety - at the State Fire Academy on Monticello Trail.

The Director, and the offices of the General Counsel and Communications & Governmental Affairs, are located in Columbia within the Kingtree building at 110 Centerview Drive.

AGENCY OVERVIEW

Mission

The mission of the Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation is to promote and protect the health, safety and economic well being of the public through regulation, licensing, enforcement, training and education.

Our mission goes hand-in-hand with the Governor's effort to raise personal incomes of South Carolinians by creating a better environment for economic growth, delivering government services more openly and efficiently, improving quality of life, and improving our state's education. LLR accomplishes its mission by:

- Promoting an environment of growth and innovation which allows regulated businesses and professionals to operate successfully and free of overly restrictive and unwarranted regulation.
- Providing cost efficient administration and periodic review of licensing and certification programs to assure the appropriate protection of the public.
- Conducting required inspections, complaint investigations, and enforcement activities in a manner that is fair, accountable and cost effective.
- Providing businesses and industry, the fire service, our licensees and the public relevant training and education programs.

Office of the Director

The Office of the Director is made up of the Director and the offices of General Counsel and Communications & Governmental Affairs. The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoints the Director.

Governor Mark Sanford appointed Adrienne Riggins Youmans as Director of the LLR in January 2003 and she was confirmed by the South Carolina State Senate on Feb. 20, 2003.

Office of Communications & Governmental Affairs
The Office of Communications and Governmental Affairs promotes and explains to the public the agency's goals, activities and services using a variety of media. Staff is responsible for the design, writing and printing of all agency publications, including newsletters, brochures, booklets and posters. The office manages the agency's Web site, which provides the public access to the agency and its programs 24/7. Staff members serve as agency spokespersons to the media for all programs. The office manages requests from the public for information under the South Carolina Freedom of Information Act to assure compliance with the law. Staff members work with chambers of commerce, trade associations, etc. to promote understanding and cooperation in carrying out the agency's mission. The office is responsible for handling ombudsman duties for the agency, working as a liaison between the Governor's Office, legislative officials, state agencies and the general public to resolve constituent complaints. The office also is responsible for coordinating, monitoring and reviewing proposed legislation, amendments, regulations and approved bills that affect boards, commissions and divisions under LLR. This includes legislation initiated by LLR and all relative legislation drafted by parties' external to the department.

Program Description:
The OSH Statistics Section in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics , conducts the annual Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) Survey of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses by North American Industry Classification System Survey of Occupational Injuries and Illnesses (NAICS) and the Census of Fatal Occupational Injuries (CFOI) Program .
Only a relatively small percentage of the total private sector employers are required to report on the BLS survey. Data collected in this survey is based on uniform record-keeping requirements, which are mandatory under provisions of both the 1970 Occupational Safety and Health Act and corresponding state laws. The data compiled in this survey is used to provide a management tool for safety engineers and persons interested in measurements of work injuries and illnesses.

Office Of OSHA Voluntary Programs

Program:	Consultation Services
Program Description: Consultations by safety and health professionals with expertise in safety and health workplace issues are provided to businesses and public sector employers free of charge. The consultants help employers identify and correct specific hazards, provide guidance in establishing or improving an effective safety and health program and offer training and education for employers, supervisors and employees. The primary target of the program is smaller businesses in higher hazard industries or with especially hazardous operations. Consultations are independent of OSHA's enforcement activity, and records are kept confidential and separate from OSHA's enforcement program. The goal of the program is to make worksites safer. The only obligation of the businesses using these services is to correct imminent dangers and other serious job safety and health hazards in a timely manner.

Program:	Palmetto Star
Program Description:
The Palmetto Star Program recognizes qualified employers who exceed the requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 in providing their workers a safe and healthy worksite. Any employer in Standard Industry Classification (SIC) Codes 20-39 may apply. Palmetto Star sites are not expected to be perfect, but they are expected to effectively protect their workers from the hazards of the workplace through their safety and health systems. A Palmetto Star site is one that has proven it is able to function independently of OSHA and is self-sufficient in its ability to control hazards at the worksite. To qualify, an applicant must demonstrate management's commitment to safety, assess hazards that may be present within the workplace, maintain a system for hazard correction and control, provide employees safety and health training, and assure employee participation in safety and health programs. Finally, the company must have a total injury/illness incident rate and a total lost workday incident rate that is 50 percent or below the state average for the applicant's industry for each of the last three years.

Office Of Elevators And Amusement Rides

Program Description:
The office was created in 1986 to administer the South Carolina Elevator Code and the South Carolina Amusement Ride Safety Code . To ensure compliance with both codes, the licensing staff of 10 inspectors conducts inspections of new and existing elevator facilities, amusement rides and bungee jumps.
Administrator	Duane Scott

Program:	Elevator Safety Inspections
Program Description:
Under Chapter 16 of Title 41 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, 1976 (as amended), the Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides administers regulations governing construction, alteration and installation of new elevators, escalators, dumbwaiters, handicapped lifts and moving walks. It also administers safety standards for existing facilities. All safety standards are national consensus standards in accordance with the American National Standards Institute. The office, and the private inspectors it licenses, inspects elevator facilities and issues operating certificates.
Since registration of elevators and related equipment formally began in July 1986, 8,475 elevators and related equipment have been registered in South Carolina. The highest numbers of registered facilities are in Richland, Charleston, Greenville and Horry counties.
Fees for the inspections performed by the Office of Elevators and Amusement Rides are based on the contract price for new elevators under construction or the number of floors served by existing elevators.

Office Of Wages & Child Labor

Program Description:

It is the responsibility of the Office of Wages & Child Labor to enforce the South Carolina Labor Laws regarding Payment of Wages and Child Labor. In 1986, the office was given new responsibilities and authority by passage of Act No. 380, a complete revision of the Payment of Wages Law. As signed by the Governor on April 21, 1986, this Act requires employers to give written notice to employees of certain key terms and conditions of their wages, to pay according to this notice, and to keep records of the payments. LLR is authorized to make inspections, issue warnings and citations, and assess civil penalties for violations of the Act.

In 1989, the office was given new responsibilities by passage of Act No. 135, which is an amendment to state child labor laws as signed by the Governor on June 8, 1989. The amendment allows the agency to make findings concerning employers who engage in any oppressive child labor actions, to issue warnings and citations and assess civil penalties for violations of the Act.

Office of Labor-Management Mediation

Program Description:

Under §41-17-10 of the South Carolina, 1976 (as amended), the LLR director is responsible for assisting in the settlement of labor disputes (except railroads and express companies doing business by rail). The Office of Labor-Management Mediation investigates industrial disputes, strikes, lockouts and their causes, and tries to help the two sides reach an agreement. When requested by both sides, a mediator will act as arbitrators or appoint other arbitrators. In general, the Office of Labor-Management Mediation tries to eliminate the causes of misunderstanding and differences between organized labor and management.

This office also administers the South Carolina Right-to-Work Law (S.C. Code of Laws, §41-7-10 through §41-7-90), which provides that the rights of workers shall not be denied or abridged based upon their affiliation or non-affiliation with a labor union.

DIVISION OF PROFESSIONAL AND OCCUPATIONAL LICENSING BOARDS

110 Centerview Drive
Kingstree Building
Columbia, South Carolina 29210
(803) 896-4300

Overview:

As an administrative unit within the Department of Labor, Licensing & Regulation, the Division of Professional and Occupational Licensing provides services to 37 professional and occupational regulatory boards that are responsible for establishing minimum standards of competence and conduct for over 270,689 licensees in South Carolina.

The 37 licensing boards protect the health, safety and well being of the citizens of South Carolina by issuing licenses to qualified individuals and businesses that provide services to consumers. The boards are composed of volunteer members some of whom are appointed by the Governor, some appointed with advice and consent of the Senate, and some of whom are elected. Board members include licensed practitioners and members of the public. They serve as a direct link between the professionals they license and consumers. Most of the boards meet on a quarterly basis, and the meetings are open to the public.

Each board evaluates the qualifications of license applicants, grants licenses to those that qualify (In FY 03-04, there were 31,218 on-line licensure renewals), and establishes regulations that set ethical and technical competence standards for the professionals it licenses (In FY03-04, the POL Boards received over 10 million on-line licensure verification hits). The boards also take disciplinary action, against licensees whose conduct fails to meet the accepted standards of the profession.

The Division also serves as an educational resource to schools and colleges and provides staff to serve as speakers and presenters at professional association and other meetings.

DIVISION OF FIRE AND LIFE SAFETY

141 Monticello Trail
Columbia, South Carolina 29203
(803) 896-9800

Overview:

The Division of Fire and Life Safety serves as the fire safety focal point for South Carolina, maintaining a statewide delivery system for fire prevention, protection and training services. The division provides leadership, guidance and services needed by the fire service to carry out its responsibilities at the local level. The Office of the State Fire Marshal and the S. C. Fire Academy comprise the division.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal also has licensing and permitting responsibilities for all LP Gas dealers, installers and resellers; public firework displays; proximate audience fireworks displays; explosives storage, use manufacture, and sale; and fire equipment dealers statewide.

The State Fire Academy provides training to the fire service – paid, volunteer and industrial. The Academy also provides training for police, emergency medical services personnel and other emergency response personnel. The Academy is South Carolina's franchisee of the National Fire Academy.

Under the State's Emergency Operations Plan, the Fire and Life Safety Division is coordinator for Emergency Support Function (ESF) 9 – Search and Rescue and co-coordinator for ESF 4 – Structural Firefighting. When the Emergency Operations Center is activated, the Division provides personnel to coordinate fire service assets in accordance with the Firefighter Mobilization Plan.

DIVISION OF FIRE AND LIFE SAFETY

Program Description:

State Emergency Preparedness, Firefighter Mobilization and Urban Search & Rescue.

Under the State's Emergency Operations Plan, the Fire and Life Safety Division is coordinator for Emergency Support Function (ESF) 9 – Search and Rescue and co-coordinator for ESF 4 – Structural Firefighting. Utilizing a collaborative effort, personnel from the State Fire Marshal's Office and the S.C. Fire Academy participate in staffing the Emergency Operations Center at SCEMD and at the Office of the State Fire Marshal. The staff also coordinates training, participates in drills and assists in the coordination and development of standard operating guidelines regarding emergency support functions. Since the adoption of the Firefighters Mobilization Plan, 176 fire departments, 2,917 firefighters and 632 stations have registered. ESF4 and 9 utilize the Firefighter Mobilization Plan to help local jurisdictions handle situations that exceed their resources. The FFMP is overseen by the Firefighter Mobilization Committee. This committee is made up of senior personnel in the fire protection field from across the state. One of the assets available to Firefighter Mobilization is the Type I USAR Team.

The USAR team is made up of fire service personnel from around the state, doctors, communication personnel and others. This team is equipped from Department of Homeland Security Grants.

Office of the State Fire Marshal

Program:	Fire Incident Reporting
Program Description: State law requires the office to collect and analyze data on fire incidents. This is done through the National Fire Incident Reporting System (NFIRS) created for fire departments in South Carolina. When a fire death occurs in South Carolina, a fire fatality form is completed and returned to the Office of State Fire Marshal. These statistics are analyzed by county, cause of death, presence of a smoke alarm, age and structure of building. South Carolina now ranks 32 nd in the nation for fire deaths, the state's lowest ranking ever.

Program:	Licensing
Program Description: The Office of the State Fire Marshal has licensing and permitting responsibilities for all LP Gas dealers, installers and resellers; public firework displays; proximate audience fireworks displays; explosives storage, use manufacture and sale; and fire equipment dealers statewide.

Program:	Field Services
Program Description:
The Field Services section continues to be one of the primary functions of the office. Deputies conducted 14,213 life safety inspections in 2004-2005. This occurred with an average of 12 deputies within the past 12 months. Five new deputies were brought on board. School inspections continued to be a priority in 2005, as the office strives to inspect every public school at least every two years. The division contracts with DSS and the Department of Disabilities and Special Needs to inspect group homes and facilities that house mentally disabled persons. The Field Services section also conducted training for certified fire inspectors during the year. During the year, local fire inspectors attended quarterly training specifically for fire inspectors at the Fire Academy. Also, the office conducted training and testing for the State Fire Marshal certification program. The office also conducted multiple training classes for local inspectors. These classes were for a national certification. These training and certification programs are in addition to the training programs offered on the national and local level and are intended to increase the quality of inspections and inspectors statewide.

Program:	Engineering Services
Program Description:
The engineering section is responsible for providing technical assistance to design professionals, other state agencies, local building officials, local fire inspectors, contractors and builders. Additionally, they are responsible for reviewing building construction plans for facilities that the fire marshal has responsibility for such as, dorm facilities, places of assembly, prisons and jails. The engineering section is also responsible for all sprinkler plan reviews for the entire state, plan reviews for aboveground storage of flammable and combustible liquids at service stations and all propane plant installations. Finally, the engineering section performs plan reviews of other facilities when requested by the local building or fire officials. Finally, the engineering team assists in revisions to the State Fire Marshal certification course when necessary and assists in teaching quarterly training when requested.

Office of the State Fire Marshal

Program:	Public Fire Safety Education and Data Management
Program Description:
The Office of the State Fire Marshal is responsible for several programs to educate the public on fire safety. One is the “Get Alarmed, South Carolina” program, the main goal of which is to lower fire deaths by education and to provide smoke alarms to high-risk citizens – the elderly, economically depressed and handicapped. Smoke alarms are provided through donations. “Freddie the Fire Cat” is a comprehensive fire safety educational curriculum for students in kindergarten through fifth grade. To date, more than 285,000 students have received this program annually. The curriculum has been placed on LLR’s Web site for downloading by schools at the local level. Other programs are given throughout the year to groups such as S.C. Department of Disabilities and Special Needs, Carolina Health Care, S.C. State Firefighter’s Association, S.C. Fire Inspectors’ Association and the S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control. Monthly press releases are generated on fire education issues and the office also coordinates a statewide Fire Prevention Week campaign. State law requires the office to collect and analyze data on fire incidents. This is done through the National Fire Incident Reporting System (NFIRS) created for fire departments in South Carolina. When a fire department responds to an incident, a report is completed and returned to the Office of the State Fire Marshal. These statistics are analyzed by county, cause, presence of a smoke alarm, age of fire death victim, and structure of building. This statistical information represents more than half of the state’s population, which is provided by 210 participating fire departments through the Fire Incident Reporting System. Based on this data, four major fire problem areas have been identified for which fire education programs have been developed to address high risk audiences in the following areas: fires involving older Americans; fires involving heating and cooking; fires involving alcohol, drugs and smoking; and fires at college dormitories/student housing. To become eligible to receive federal funding, fire departments must be participants in the national incident reporting system. This newly enacted requirement has increased the demand for technical training and, in turn, increased department participation to 210 from 165. To accommodate training, the Division found it necessary to purchase equipment that would allow for a mobile computer training lab. This enables on-site training at the Academy and in other regions of the state. Through the S.C. Fire Incident Reporting class, more than 300 firefighters have been trained. Annual funding awarded to South Carolina Fire Departments through the Assistance to Firefighter Grants are as follows: <table style="margin-left: 40px;"> <tr> <td>2001</td> <td>1,554,861.00</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>2002</td> <td>5,257,960.00</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>2003</td> <td>12,109,960.00</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>2004</td> <td>14,074,032.00</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>2005</td> <td>10,544,419.00</td> <td>- ongoing</td> </tr> </table>			2001	1,554,861.00		2002	5,257,960.00		2003	12,109,960.00		2004	14,074,032.00		2005	10,544,419.00	- ongoing

The Division of Fire and Life Safety and EdVenture Children's Museum entered into an agreement for the purpose of providing personnel and program support for Dalmatian Station (a fire safety exhibit) within EdVenture to provide fire and life safety programs for school and family audiences. Two division staff members are responsible for program development, delivery and outreach activities. Twelve new fire and life safety programs have been developed for this purpose and are being utilized through various training and educational opportunities.

Deputy Director Division of Fire and Life Safety John Reich
Superintendent Ed Roper

Program Description:

The Fire Academy's mission is to provide statewide training for fire service personnel: paid, volunteer, airport air crash rescue firefighters, industrial fire brigade and other emergency response personnel. This training includes the skills necessary to provide basic incident command and control for emergency operations involving fire, rescue, hazardous materials and weapons of mass destruction incidents. We also provide basic and advanced training for firefighters, fire officers, instructors and fire department support functions, which include public fire education, fire prevention, inspections and fire investigations. Classes are conducted seven days per week, both day and night, and also on many state holidays to meet customer demand. The Fire Academy had programs at its main campus on 325 days in 2004-2005. Live fire training involves real fires and is dangerous, and student and employee safety is the Fire Academy's No. 1 goal for every course.

Fire and emergency services training require a combination of classroom instruction and hands-on skill training using special tools and equipment. It also requires several instructors per course to ensure safety of students and instructors and to evaluate students for required skill competency.

The Fire Academy has been operating since July 1995 on a 208-acre site four miles northwest of Columbia off Monticello Road. The site has 10 buildings with more than 100,000 square feet of heated and cooled floor space. This includes the Fire Marshal's office; an administration building; five classrooms; an auditorium that seats 200; a dormitory that sleeps 116; cafeteria; five-story drill tower with smoke maze; six-bay fire station with living quarters; an instructor building; student processing center; maintenance building and shop; a Class A burn building and a computer-controlled LP gas fire burn building; 10 flammable liquid and gas live-fire training props; two computer-controlled 737 aircraft burn training props constructed with a FAA grant; and confined space rescue, hazardous materials and USAR heavy rescue training area props. This year the Fire Academy completed a construction project and constructed three new training prop buildings, a large area search building prop, hazardous materials prop building and an urban search and rescue prop building. The Fire Academy also improved prop safety by installing concrete pads around the flammable liquids and gas props, ARFF props and provided an auto extrication pad. An urban search and rescue rubble pile prop and a trench rescue prop were also built. This has improved site safety and the Fire Academy's ability to deliver advanced and specialized courses.

The Fire Academy has three program areas related to training: Regional Training, Resident Training and Curriculum, which also include instructor certification, IFSAC certification and accreditation program. There are two support groups that include facilities maintenance that takes care of the entire site, grounds, buildings, props, support equipment, vehicles and the dorm. The cafeteria operation provides meal service for breakfast and lunch five to seven days per week, depending on training being conducted on site. They also support special meals for special programs.

South Carolina has about 450 fire departments with about 16,000 paid and volunteer firefighters. FY 2005 was the busiest year in the Fire Academy's history. The Fire Academy conducted 2,118 courses for 25,786 public fire service and emergency personnel and trained 1,494 industrial fire brigade members for a total of 27,280 students with a total of 483,543 student contact hours.

The Fire Academy receives no appropriated funding. It receives part of a 1% fee on fire insurance premiums, a .035% of 1% fee on fire insurance, and fees the fire service and industry pay for courses. The budget underwrites, to some degree, all municipal programs, except programs conducted with federal grant funding. Instructor training workshops and updates are provided free. This helps ensure instructors have up-to-date knowledge and technical skills. Training is provided to the military, law enforcement, emergency medical services and other emergency service organizations at a higher fee.

Program:	Curriculum, IFSAC Accreditation, Testing, Certification and Instructor Training and Certification
Program Description:
The Fire Academy maintains an instructor certification program for more than 732 part-time instructors, who teach courses at the Fire Academy and in their local fire departments. The instructor certification system involves establishing requirements for entry-level instructors and the re-certification of existing instructors. The Fire Academy operates a firefighter certification program that is accredited by the International Fire Service Accreditation Congress (IFSAC). This year, the Fire Academy added one new IFSAC certification level, Driver/Operator ARFF. The Fire Academy has 10 separate certification areas: Firefighter I, Firefighter II, Driver/Operator, Instructor I, Fire Officer I, ARFF, Fire and Life Safety Educator I, Hazardous Materials Operations, Fire Inspection I and Driver/Operator ARFF. In FY05, the Fire Academy had 4,782 firefighters who entered the certification program and were tested, with 3,744 passing and earning IFSAC certification. The pass rate was 78.29%. The total number of students tested increased by 113% from FY 04. This increase was due to a policy change that ended a three-year exam challenge period for 1121 and 1131 students. Since 1993, the Fire Academy has awarded 12,703 IFSAC certificates in the Certification Program. The Fire Academy advertises 86 courses that the curriculum section is responsible for keeping current and up-to-date with changing standards. Additionally, they must produce eight to 12 Instructor Orientation Workshops (IOW) per year. All courses must have current lesson plans, student manuals, audio visual aids, task manuals, and applicable tests and skills performance manuals. They also develop new courses to meet the needs of the fire service.

Program:	Regional Training
Program Description: Regional training is key to the delivery of courses to fire service customers. A majority of Fire Academy courses are conducted in the regions at the local fire department. The Fire Academy has seven regions served by six regional offices. This year the Fire Academy changed the Rock Hill Regional Office, Region 2, from part-time staffing to a full-time regional coordinator. This has improved service to this region. This now gives the Fire Academy four full-time regional offices. The Florence office serves two regions, 3 and 4. This leaves two offices, 6 and 7, staffed with part-time employees. The regional offices interact directly with the municipal fire service on a daily basis and schedule training programs to be conducted at local fire departments or at the regional offices. The regions also work very closely with the Resident Training section with haz mat and rescue programs due to the demand for instructors and equipment needed to conduct these courses. The regions are responsible for maintaining their regional facilities and equipment. Regional coordinators are on-call 24 hours a day in the event of an emergency during a course. The regional coordinators visit fire departments and attend Chiefs, Firefighter's and Instructor association meetings and conferences to ensure the needs of customers are being met. They interface with ACI and adjunct instructors who teach academy programs in their departments, or are hired to teach at another department.

Regional operations allow the Fire Academy to meet its customer needs by providing courses at local departments, upon request, at a time convenient for them. With 85% of the state's fire service being volunteers, this flexibility is the only way the Fire Academy can provide the training they need. Most courses have written tests, and hands-on skill evaluations that the student must pass to complete the course. Many regional courses require a live burn that must be conducted at an approved burn facility, and the State Fire Academy is used for this purpose.

Program Description: Resident training includes courses offered at the Fire Academy's main campus. This includes municipal programs that require special burn props or special equipment and cannot be taken to the regions. Examples include: flammable liquid and gas firefighting courses, and special heavy rescue and water rescue courses. The resident training section is also responsible for marketing and providing all industrial training. A majority is done on site, but some are conducted at the industrial customer's facility. Industrial revenue is a key funding source for the Fire Academy. For many industries, a trained fire brigade and emergency teams are crucial to plant operation. Trained personnel protect the plant and protect the jobs of every employee. We also offer consultation and site visits to assist industries with their fire brigade organization and customize training courses to meet their specific needs.
