RENWAL TIME IS OVER!

Did you renew your South Carolina nursing license? If not, you may not practice nursing in the State of South Carolina until you reinstate your license. You may verify your expiration date on Licensee Lookup at https://verify.llronline.com/

If your license has lapsed and you wish to reinstate our license, please visit the Board’s website at www.llr.state.sc.us/pol/nursing/ for information and requirements.

Prior to registering for a refresher course, please review the website information regarding requirements for changing from an inactive to active licensure status, reinstatement of a lapsed license or licensure by endorsement. The appropriate application for licensure can be initiated at this time to facilitate refresher course requirements. The South Carolina (SC) Board of Nursing (BON) website is www.llr.state.sc.us/pol/nursing. When you arrive on the home page, please select Applications/Forms.

A list of the refresher courses approved by the SC BON is available on the website under Education and then Refresher Course Information. Please ensure that the course you select is approved by the SC BON prior to registering/enrolling.

Important Facts for the Required Clinical Experience Component of the SC BON Approved Refresher Course.

1. Completion of a South Carolina Reactivation/Reinstatement Application for the current year. (Applicable if a S.C. license has previously been issued.) South Carolina licensure requirements and applications are also found under Forms.

2. Completion of all requirements for Application for South Carolina Licensure by Endorsement. (Applicable if license has been issued in another state/jurisdiction in this country.) South Carolina licensure requirements and applications are also found under Applications/Forms.

3. The theory component of the refresher course must be successfully completed prior to beginning the clinical component.

4. All applicants must submit the correct fees with the application. Please refer to the application for fee information. Please be advised that an application for licensure is required for the processing of the temporary license required for the refresher course clinical experience component. We strongly recommend that you submit an application in advance to prevent delays in processing the temporary license required for the clinical experience.

5. Documentation from the facility where the clinical component will be performed must be sent to the Board of Nursing by the refresher course director and must include the following: a clinical plan with course program approval, Registered Nurse preceptor signature to include the credentials and position title and inclusive clinical start and completion dates. The refresher course student credentials should also be listed.

6. Upon completion of the above requirements, the application will be reviewed and a temporary license will be issued when eligibility has been determined. The temporary license authorizes practice in South Carolina only while you are participating in the refresher course clinical component. The temporary license will be specific to the facility listed on your preceptor agreement. Please allow 20 business days for temporary license processing.

7. A copy of your certificate noting successful completion of the refresher course must be sent directly to the Board from the refresher course director in order for an active license to be issued. Please allow 14 business days for processing.

Orientation is considered the practice of nursing in South Carolina. Therefore, all nurses must possess a current South Carolina temporary license and/or license before beginning orientation (including classroom instruction and reading policies/procedures). It is a violation of the Nurse Practice Act to begin orientation without the proper license and can result in action by the Board.
Is it within the role and scope of the Registered Nurse (RN) to utilize ultrasound guidance and assistance for peripheral IV catheter placement?

Is it within the role of the scope of the Registered Nurse to utilize ultrasound guidance and assistance for peripheral IV catheter placement?

The Board of Nursing for South Carolina recognizes that it is within the role and scope of the Registered Nurse to utilize ultrasound guidance and assistance for peripheral IV catheter placement. The RN must complete a formalized education program regarding the use of ultrasound guidance and assistance for peripheral IV placement, and demonstrate competency.

The Board recognizes that this responsibility requires special education and training for the RN. If the nursing department determines that implementation is in order, the appropriate policies, procedures, and protocols should be developed. Protocols must specify qualifications, special education, and training for use of ultrasound guidance and assistance for peripheral IV placement, and include didactic and clinical competencies.

This statement is an advisory opinion of the Board of Nursing as to what constitutes competent and safe practice.
I live in a noncompact state. How do I get a compact multistate license?

Only nurses who declare a compact state as their primary state of residence are eligible for a multistate license. As a resident of a noncompact state, you may apply for a license in a compact state, although, your eligibility will be limited to a single state license that is valid in that state only.

I can’t find the application or fee for a compact license on the board of nursing’s website. Can you send it to me?

There is no compact application that is separate from the state license application. Use the state board of nursing application for licensure (exam, endorsement, etc.), as found on the board of nursing’s website. Licensure fees vary by state; there is not one standard fee when applying for a license in a compact state.

I live in a compact state and have a license. How do I get a compact license?

If you declare a compact state as your primary state of residence, your license automatically becomes a compact multistate license, as long as your license is in good-standing. If you’re unsure of your licensure status, visit www.nursys.com. Click on “Licensure QuickConfirm” and follow the steps. After selecting your license, type in the numbers as requested and click on “Generate Verification Report.” The report will indicate “multistate” or “single state” in the status column.

I have a compact license. How long can I work in another compact state?

There is no time limit, assuming you have a valid license in good standing. Your license was issued by your home state. As long as you maintain that home state as your declared primary state of residency and remain in good standing, you may practice in other compact states.

Once you establish residency in a different compact state and are employed in nursing, you have 30 days to obtain that state’s license by applying for licensure by endorsement. The following are examples of establishing primary state of residency: obtaining a driver’s license, voting/registering to vote, filing federal taxes with an address in that state. Because the state’s licensure by endorsement process may take more than 30 days, it is suggested you apply early.

My primary state of residence is a noncompact state; it is also where I am licensed. I am applying for a license in a compact state, however. Do I have to give up my original license?

No, you may hold a nursing license in as many noncompact states as you want. However, the nurse licensure compact law allows a licensee to hold only one compact multistate license in their primary state of residence.

I have a compact multistate license and I am relocating to another compact state. Can I use my current license in the other state?

When relocating to another compact state and declaring that state as your primary state of residence, you must apply for licensure by endorsement and notify the former state board of nursing that you are no longer a resident. You have 30 days in which to be licensed. It’s recommended to start the application process prior to the move. A new multistate compact license will not be issued until you provide a Declaration of Primary State of Residency form to the state board of nursing. An employer may terminate the employment of a nurse for practicing beyond the 30-day limit, without having obtained that state’s license.

I live in a compact state where I am licensed. How do I get a license in a noncompact state?

Apply for licensure by endorsement to the state board of nursing in the state in which you seek licensure. Applications can be found on the board of nursing’s website. If you are moving and the noncompact state is your primary state of residency, inform the compact state board of nursing that you are no longer a resident. Your multistate license status will be changed to single state.
I am graduating from a nursing program this year. Can I take the NCLEX® in a different state?

The NCLEX® can be taken in any jurisdiction. However, graduates applying for a license who legally reside in a compact state can only apply to their home state board of nursing. This means that the applicant cannot apply for a compact license in a compact state other than the one in which he/she is declaring as their primary state of residence.

I live in a noncompact state, but I will be changing my primary state of residence to a compact state in a few months for a job. Can I apply for a license in that state now so I can work immediately after moving?

Yes. It's recommended to start the application process one to two months prior to the move. Complete the application process in the compact state and provide a Declaration of Primary State of Residency form to the state board of nursing. Proof of residency may be required.

We live in a noncompact state, but own property in a compact state. Can I get a compact license?

In order to be eligible for a compact multistate license, your declared primary state of residency must be a compact state. Owning property in a compact state is not sufficient to meet residency requirements. Actions which the NLC considers proof of residency include obtaining a driver's license, voting/registering to vote or filing federal taxes with an address in that state.

I was living in a compact state where I am licensed and have since relocated to another compact state for a job. I'm unsure about how long I can work on my former license in my new location.

When permanently relocating to another compact state, apply for licensure by endorsement and complete the Declaration of the State of Residency for the new home state. Notify the former compact state board of nursing that you are no longer a resident. You can work on your former license for up to 30 days. The 30 days starts with your first day of work. It's recommended to start the application process one to two months prior to the move.

I am licensed in the state I live in, which just joined the compact. What do I have to do to get the compact license or is it automatic?

If you already have a license in that state and the state board of nursing has your address on record as your primary residence, then your license should automatically be a compact multistate license, as of the date that state implements the compact, as long as your license is in good standing.

I'm an employer in a compact state and we hired a nurse from another compact state. How long can the nurse work on her former state license before needing to get a license in this state?

When permanently relocating to another compact state, a nurse must apply for licensure by endorsement and declare the new compact state as their primary state of residence. It's recommended the nurse start the application process 1-2 months prior to the move. The nurse can practice on the former license for up to 30 days. The 30 days starts with the first day of work.

I have a compact multistate license and have accepted a temporary assignment in another compact state. My employer or staffing agency is telling me that I need to get that state's license.

The Nurse Licensure Compact laws allow a nurse to hold only one active multistate license in the primary state of residency. A licensee holding a compact multistate license in good standing has the privilege to practice in any compact state. Employers cannot require the nurse to apply for licensure in a remote state when the nurse has lawfully declared a primary state of residency based on where he or she pays federal income tax, is registered to vote and holds a driver's license. The board of nursing will not issue a license to a nurse declaring another compact state as their primary state of residence.
Tools of the Trade

All nurses should visit the website monthly for up-to-date information!

When is the last time you visited the Board of Nursing’s website? The Board recommends that all nurses licensed by or working in South Carolina visit its website (www.llr.state.sc.us/pol/nursing/) at least monthly for up-to-date information on nursing licensure in South Carolina. When a new advisory opinion is issued or a current advisory opinion revised, it is updated on the website after Board approval. The Competency Requirement, Competency Requirement Criteria, Licensure information, Advisory Opinions, Position Statements and the Nurse Practice Act are just a few of the valuable tools and information you will find on the website.

The Advisory Opinions, Position Statements and the Nurse Practice Act are located under Laws/Policies. The Competency Requirement and Competency Requirement Criteria, which includes continuing education contact hours, are located under Licensure.

The Board hopes you will find this information useful in your nursing practice.

Returned Checks

Be certain there are sufficient funds in your account to cover your payment.

When submitting any fees to the Board of Nursing, please be certain there are sufficient funds in your account to cover your payment (paper or electronic check or credit card) and that the payment has cleared before closing any account. Section 40-1-50(G) of the South Carolina Code of Laws states that a license shall be suspended if a fee payment is made by a check that is subsequently returned, replacement funds plus the returned check fee allowed by law will be charged.

NCSBN recently released a mobile version of nursys.com, which can now easily be accessed on all electronic mobile devices. The new mobile website will automatically detect if users are connecting from a mobile device and redirect them to the mobile page.

Via the mobile version of nursys.com, employers and the public can access QuickConfirm for license lookup purposes, while nurses can utilize the Nurse License Verification tool to apply for licensure in another jurisdiction from anywhere with an Internet connection.

NCSBN Launches New NCLEX Video

Chicago - The National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) created a new video designed to help candidates better understand how the NCLEX-RN Examination and NCLEX-PN Examination use computerized adaptive testing (CAT) to measure the competencies needed to perform safely and effectively as a newly licensed, entry-level nurse.

In 1994, NCSBN became the first organization to use CAT, a method for administering exams that merges computer technology with modern measurement theory. CAT increases the efficiency of the exam process for the purpose of nationwide licensure examinations. Nursing is regulated because it is one of the health professions that poses a risk of harm to the public if practiced by someone who is unprepared; that is why NCLEX exams are vital components in the licensure process.

The new “NCLEX Using CAT” (https://www.ncsbn.org/3761.htm) video explains why CAT is used for the NCLEX and how it works. Utilizing the familiar scenario of lifting weights to illustrate the principles behind CAT, the video introduces how the exam is scored, how test items are selected and pass/fail rules.

The National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) is a not-for-profit organization whose members include the boards of nursing in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and four U.S. territories — American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands and the Virgin Islands. There are also nine associate members.

Mission: NCSBN provides education, service and research through collaborative leadership to promote evidence-based regulatory excellence for patient safety and public protection.

The statements and opinions expressed are those of NCSBN and not the individual member state or territorial boards of nursing.

Legal Name Required on License

Section 40-33-36 of the Nurse Practice Act requires a license to be issued in the applicant’s legal name as verified by a birth certificate or other legal document acceptable to the Board (i.e., copy of marriage certificate, divorce degree, court order). You must use the name on your license when signing nursing documents.

If a licensee changes her or his name after a license has been issued, notification of the change must be filed with the Board within 15 business days, accompanied by a copy of the legal document authorizing the change. If you get married, please let us know how you wish to have your name on your license. For example, if Jane Ann Doe marries John Smith, does Jane want her license to have Jane Doe Smith or Jane Ann Smith or Jane Ann Doe Smith? If the last name is not hyphenated, Smith would be listed as the last name. A licensee’s name may not be changed on a record in the office of the Board without written authorization for the change and an adequate identification of the applicant.
